UCLA AIDS Institute & the UCLA Center for AIDS Research
“Non-Prototypical Identities of Young MSM: typology & social context”
Role: Co-PI

This pilot project combines traditional and internet ethnographic approaches to better characterize the self-understandings and social context of young adult (18-30 years old) men who have sex with men, who do not identify as “gay,” with an aim to decreasing barriers to sexual health care and informing HIV risk-reduction interventions.

FIELD RESEARCH

Prague, Czech Republic. Field research for PhD dissertation: Social Change, Mental Health, and the Evolution of Gay Male Identities: a clinical ethnography of post-communist Prague. Examined processes of sexual identity formation and maintenance, romantic relationships, and sexual behavior among gay and bisexual Czech men. Also looked at concerns of depression and problematic alcohol use in this partially stigmatized sexual minority population. 1999-2002.

Prague, Czech Republic. Postdoctoral fieldwork: “Survey of Czech Male Sexuality.” Followed up on dissertation research. Also conducted interviews with older Czech gay and bisexual men (aged 50-72) and administered survey to men attending gay bars (n=133). Summer 2006.

Prague, Czech Republic. Postdoctoral fieldwork: “Czech Sexual Health.” Followed up on prior ethnographic research, including documenting first Prague Gay Pride festival. Administered survey to young adults in both gay and non-gay venues in central Prague (n=406), looking at sexual behavior including sexual networks, and assessing possible behavioral change in response to increasing incidence of HIV. Summer 2011.

Los Angeles, CA. “Non-Prototypical Young Men who have Sex with Men.” Internet and traditional ethnography looking at young adult MSM who do not identify as gay, including self-representations, degree of socialization into gay or non-gay MSM social networks and subcultures, with relevance to HIV risk behaviors. 2011-present.

AREAS OF INTEREST

Sexuality & sexual identities, psychological anthropology, cognitive anthropology, cultural models, person-centered ethnography, theories of personality, psychoanalysis, urban ethnography, nationalism & post-socialism, Czech Republic & Central Europe, comparative history of Christianity, addiction, eating disorders, HIV/AIDS.

LANGUAGES

Reading, writing, & speaking fluency in Czech.
Reading knowledge of French, Latin, & Slovak.
